2 GAMES EACH NIGHT

To Play Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 7:00 O'clock

The soft ball season will open in Canyon next Monday evening.

The playing fields will be on Third Avenue, east of the I. C. Jenkins home, field No. 1 being in the first block, and No. 2 in the second block. These fields were selected Tuesday evening at a meeting of various fans interested in the twilight league.

Captains are urged to get their teams in practice this week, and be ready at 7:00 o'clock Monday evening for the opening games. Those teams wishing to practice this week may use these fields.

It was deemed advisable to revamp the plans of last week owing to the overlapping players in the Rotary, Firemen and Legion teams, and to make these three in the Business Men's team. The other five teams entering the league last week will remain the same.

Unless two more teams enter the league at once, games will be played only three nights per week, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights. Wednesday and Friday will be reserved for make-up nights in case of bad weather. Under this plan each team will play two

Governor Signs Bill For Appropriations

Increase Money Is Allowed W. T. For Two Years

Governor Allred signed the educational appropriations bill Friday without a single veto. He is among the few governors in recent years who have left a bill for education standing as passed by the legislature.

The appropriation for W .T. was increased about 12 per cent over the amount passed two years ago. The total in the present bill for the first year is $167,437, as compared with $146,827 in the bill two years ago. No provision was made for summer school in the second year. This session is allowed $14,798 for the first year—the same as provided for the present session.

Practically all salaries were raised small amounts in the present bill following the drastic cut made two years ago. No new positions were created, but one teacher was taken from the local fund and placed on the state appropriation, as was also one janitor.

The maintenance and equipment account was increased $3,450 for each year.

Provision was made for $5,000 for repairs, whereas the legislature refused to allow such appropriations two years ago.

Play Night Will Be Started Friday

Waste Paper Can Advertising Is Unprofitable

Did you see the waste paper can at the post office yesterday?

Did you notice that it was running over with circulars—all advertising sheets—which had been thrown there by boxholders?

Did you notice that many refused to even go to the waste paper can, but simply dumped this all-advertising sheet on the floor?

That "advertiser" (?) wasted a lot of good money filling the waste paper can.

The business firm which resorts to so-called "cheap" methods of reaching the public through circulars and all-advertising bill plans is not reaching the buying public 100%, or even 50%.

How many copies of The News, or any local newspaper have you seen thrown into the waste paper can at the post office?

The newspaper is a welcomed visitor into every home, where it is read by every member of the family.

The advertiser who wishes to have his message welcomed into the homes of the community should use the newspaper regularly.

It is unprofitable to buy advertising for the benefit of the ash can.

Mrs. Kathryn Sibley and daughter Jean, and nephew, Ernest Frank, have gone to Phoenix, Ariz., to visit her sister. They will visit at Riverside and San Diego while in California.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Furlow and children visited Mr. Furlow's brother at Littlefield over the week end. Estill Furlow, who has been visiting there the past week, returned home with them.

G. D. Foster of Colorado is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Foster.

Play Night To Be Held Weekly Throughout Summer

Play night will be held every Friday night during the summer session of W. T. at the Buffalo Stadium.

Coach Al Baggett announces the first Play Night of the summer for Friday night of this week, and extends a cordial invitation to all citizens to join with the College students and faculty in the initial event of the season.

Croquet and other games will be played during the evening.

The field will be lighted for the games at the end of the evening's play.

The Outlaws, headed by Delbert Lowes, will play the College athletes in a soft ball baseball game.

All events will start at 7:00 o'clock and will continue for about two hours.

Play night was started last summer, and drew large crowds thruout the summer. It was very popular with the student body, and after the close of the summer session was continued by the town people.

Railroad Week to Be Observed Starting Next Monday

Railroad Week will be observed next week, starting at 8:00 o'clock Monday morning. At that time every locomotive engine will blast for three minutes, calling attention to the fact that the week's observance has started.

J. J. Lane of Amarillo will make a talk next Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on the work being done by the Santa Fe. Speakers will visit all luncheon and civic clubs during the week, calling the public's attention to improved railroad service.

Western railroads have been unusually active the past few months improving their service. $19,000,000 has been spent in air-conditioning alone.

June Relief Funds Reduced–Small Sum Received In May

Relief money has failed to arrive from Austin for the first part of June, although notice was received Monday by County Administrator H. S. Strain that a check would be sent. The men have not worked for the past ten days.

Word from Austin indicates that a very great reduction will be made during June over the allowance of May. While $17 per capita was supposed to be sent out during May, the actual amount received here was $13.38 for families and $4.00 for single persons. It is announced that not more than $10 will be available for June.

The case records of the county were revised by state auditors the past week.

Meat and milk are the only food produce which have been allotted the local office during the past weeks.

A shipment of dry goods was distributed the first of this week, consisting of sheets, pillow cases, dresses and shirts.

Austin has been advised of the small amount of money actually received here, and urged to send the full amount which has been promised this county.

Ples Harper of Tuscon, Arizona, is visiting in the home of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meyers left Saturday for Fort Worth where they will live during the summer.

Attendance Equals The Opening Period Of Last Year

VISITING TEACHERS

Special Attention Will Be Given to Texas History

The first two days of enrollment for the summer session closed today with 756 students in the college and 200 in the high school and grades of the demonstration school.

Members of the housing committee report that available living quarters are rapidly being taken and according to the administrative officers there is every indication of a good summer session.

Visiting members of the faculty began to arrive in Canyon on Monday. The visiting members of the faculty are Miss Maude Fletcher, first six weeks, from Amarillo Public Schools; Miss Annie McDonald, Department of Education, from Amarillo; Lula Grace Erdman, Demonstration School, from Amarillo; Miss Bertha Stephens, Demonstration School, from Colorado; Luther Gray, Demonstration School, from University of Texas; Etheleen Murrell, Pampa, Demonstration School; John B. Concessions Will Be Let For Palo Duro Canyon Park

Bids for concessions at the Palo Duro Canyon State Park will be received up until Saturday by Clyde Warwick, chairman of the Advisory committee. The first meeting of the new committee was held Sunday afternoon at the Park, with both T. E. Johnson of Amarillo and Judge C. W. Humble of Hereford joining Mr. Warwick. Supt. Louis Bryan outlined the work being done at the Park, and offered many valuable suggestions for the committee's work.

Concessions will be granted to furnish horses for horseback riding; together with three possible locations for general sales stands—one at the lodge, one at the gate and one down in the canyon at Cow Camp.

Those interested are requested to make bids on these concessions.

A large number of special days will be promoted for the Palo Duro during the summer months. The main feature will be to advertise the park as a family picnicking ground, and as a community gathering place. Organizations which will hold gatherings during the summer will be urged to meet at the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Board Equalization Will Hear Taxpayers at Meeting June 20

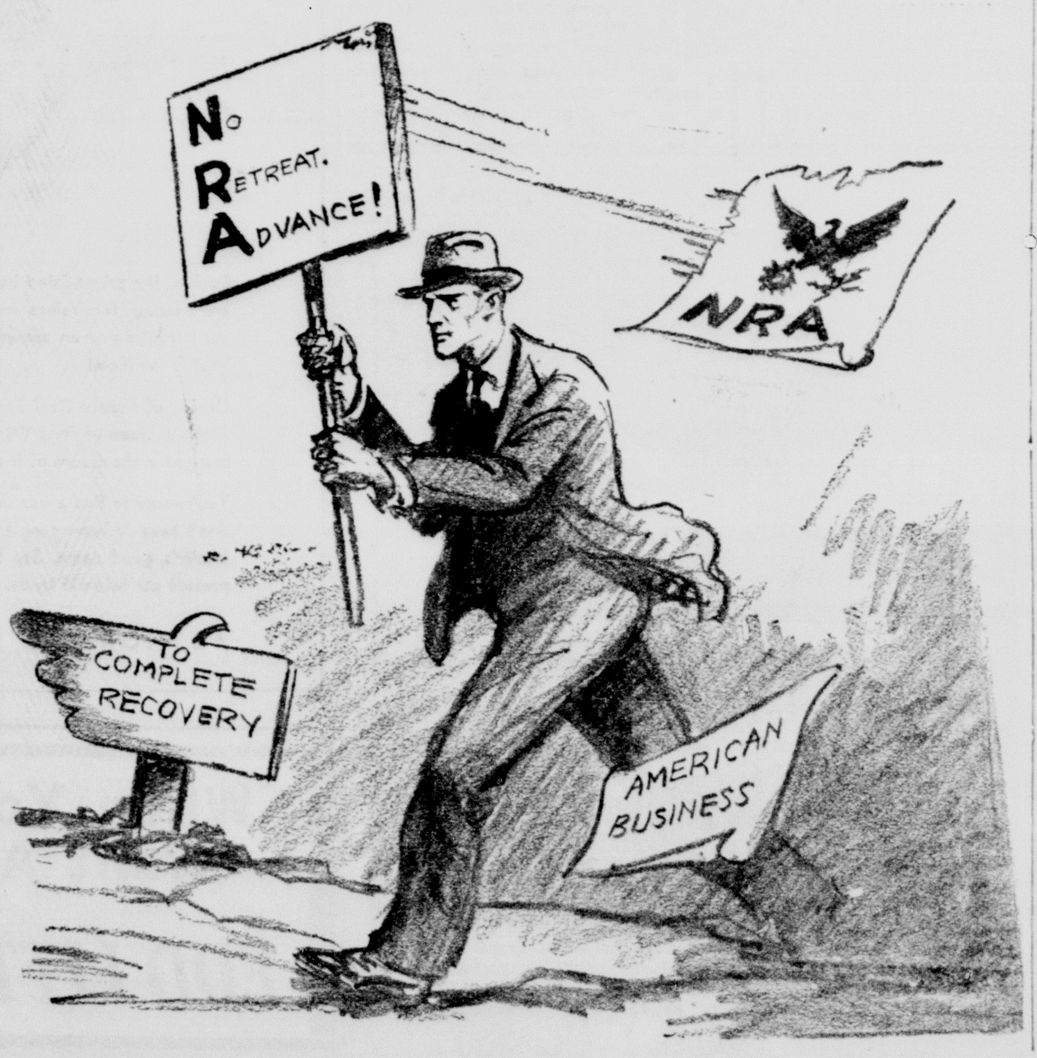

The Commissioners' Court sitting as a Board of Equalization finished its work Monday of passing upon the rendition blanks of property owners for the year 1935.

Notices have been mailed to 350 taxpayers of the county to meet the commissioners on Wednesday, June 20th, and show cause why their renditions should not be raised for the purpose of equalizing taxes.

Members of the court believe that the same tax rate will be used this year as was collected for 1934.

AFTER N. R. A?

The business world was more or less shocked last week when the Supreme Court swatted NRA. The Roosevelt administration was almost bowled over, since this decision upsets many of the ramifications of the New Deal.

The immediate result of the sobering decision is to see a change of heart among many business men, who had been tearing their hair and denouncing all phases of the New Deal. They are beginning to wonder if recovery would not be possible much sooner under a modified NRA than without this measure.

Stability is one thing which the nation needs. Capital crawled into the storm cave, and was just beginning to take an occasional peep out to view the weather when the decision came. Will capital come out boldly now, or will it continue to wait? The successful capitalist is never very brave when conditions are turbulent.

The great mistake of NRA was the wide variety of services it attempted to render. Had it been satisfied with the general code, instead of attempting to set up hundreds of individual codes, it might have fared better. Small business men found themselves subjected to from three to a dozen codes, none of which were correlated.

No one really doubted that much of the New Deal has treaded upon thin ice so far as the constitution was concerned. But there was a time when something must be done, constitution or no constitution. The emergency demanded extraordinary treatment. Perhaps the nation has recovered to such an extent now that it no longer needed these farflung measures. If so, it has traveled much farther toward recovery than the people realize. If recovery is so near at hand, it will be a glorious day for America.

Legitimate business will not stagger under the blow of repeal of NRA. Most institutions will continue as they have continued until the chisslers again enter, and force changes. Reports are being made that many of the big chain stores immediately cut wages and increased hours. If this is true, competition will make it necessary for legitimate firms to follow suit.

The most serious aspect of the decision is its effect upon the President's social security program, and the agricultural program. If these two phases of the New Deal are disrupted by the decision, the nation has lost what it has gained during the past two years.

That the President is thoroughly aroused over the situation is seen in his talk with newspaper men Friday.

The leaders of the nation still have real problems confronting them.

Dave Warren of Panhandle published a scathing statement regarding the treatment he received in a certain town while on a recent trip to California. He met a hold-up man running a garage. Possibly this man thought Dave was just another sucker touring the country, and should be easy prey, so he put on the screws. No one who read of this hold-up will rush out and stop in that particular town. This garage man has given his town a black eye so far as Dave Warren and his readers are concerned. None of them will ever wish to spend a penny in that town, all because of the unfair treatment of one man. This nation is on wheels; and word flows freely and quickly among those who travel. Those who meet the traveling public can do much in selling the future of their communities through the treatment of the traveling public. Skinning one tourist may seem like good business to one individual, but it may lose hundreds of tourists to the town when the one who is mistreated starts talking. It always pays to be courteous, whether among home folks or strangers.

Harry Kock in Quanah Tribune-Chief: Rather interesting to notice that since the days of Charlie Culbertson no ex-governor of Texas has ever been elected to any high office. Pat Neff alone went up to railroad commissioner, but all others were consigned to oblivion. Probably our primary system is to blame for this. When we had political conventions only men of brains and personality would attract attention, but under the primary system even mediocre men got their chance. We only need to recall the instance of an obscure Dallas lawyer during the last campaign changing his name to Geo. B. Terrell, and getting this name on the ticket as a candidate for state treasurer. Though the higher court ruled that he had no right to that name 275,000 votes were cast for him. A disgrace to the state like that would never have happened during the convention system.

When you see a person tearing his hair because a senator or representative or president does something with which he does not agree, and hear him denounce and threaten because of this disagreement, you will find an individual who does not believe in representative government. A true representative cannot vote and act to please each of his constituents. He attempts to represent the sentiment of a majority of his people, based upon their knowledge of what is good for the country as a whole. Sometimes a majority is badly mistaken in what it wants its representatives to do. A good representative of the people likes to hear an expression of opinion from back home, but he never fears the threatening kind. Usually they do not know what they want, and are not satisfied no matter what happens.

A group of women down at Houston will make a state wide campaign against capital punishment, becausing killing men by the state has not stopped murder. By the same line of reasoning, the jails and penitentiary have not stopped stealing, bootlegging and all other sort of crime. If the criminals are to be set up as heroes by this class of citizens, why not tear down our jails, arm every person with guns, and let the folks shoot it out at will. This group was strong enough to file a petition with the Governor, containing 25,000 names, asking clemency for Hamilton. No worse crime can be conceived in the name of decency.

The bonus bill was defeated on account of various factions among the ex-service men themselves. If the veterans had been united on a plan, the Senate would have been able to override the President's veto. Until the veterans can themselves agree, the bonus will not be paid before it is due. Furthermore, a different attitude must be assumed by some people outside the ranks of the veterans. Threats on the part of citizens against Congress never pays. The weaknss of any position is revealed when it becomes necessary to resort to threats.

A consolidation has been made of the radio stations in Amarillo, with the Amarillo News owning the plant. The daily newspapers have largely absorbed the radio stations in this country. The two work hand in hand. However, radio programs have become punk during the past season. The situation will probably lead to a consolidation of stations in order to cut out interference. The Radio Commission is refusing to grant licenses to many new stations. No doubt the consolidation of the Amarillo stations will lead to much better service for the public.

Kidnapping was checked considerably by the Hauptmann trial. The death penalty no doubt had a good effect. It is unfortunate that Miss Mary McElroy,, abducted by Walter McGee, saw fit to ask for clemency for this arch criminal. Whether or not the latest kidnapping case in Oregon was influenced by the McGee decision, no one will ever know. When this gang is safely behind the bars, we trust that the foolish sentiment for criminals too often shown in this nation will not be displayed as in the Hauptmann and McGee cases.

Railroad week will be observed in this nation next week. At eight o'clock Monday morning every locomotive whistle in the United States will blow for three minutes to let the people know that the observance week has started. This nation owes a lot to the railroads for the development they have made possible. It is well to treat fairly those institutions which meant so much to the nation.

Henry Ford made a jibe at NRA when he refused to join: "An industry to be successful should be run by somebody that understands it." Now isn't the same true about a government, or any profession? Isn't it true that this country has too many meddlers in all lines who know nothing about what they are doing?

Pampa is putting on its pre-Centennial celebration this weekend. Thousands of people visited Pampa last year when the show was started, and a bigger and better program is planned for this year. The people of Pampa do things in a big way.

Former Vice President Charles Curtis says there are twelve Republicans who can beat Roosevelt next year. Thanks, Charles, we did not know there were that many Republicans left.

If you wish to increase your chances of being killed by a drunken automobile driver, vote to increase liquor.

Work Progressing on Buffalo Courts

During the time of a depression is usually found retrenchment and curtailment of expansion, but just the reverse has been true on the campus of West Texas State Teachers College.

Throughout the past year several projects have been inaugurated by the Physical Education Department under the leadership of Coach Al Baggett, which are transforming the campus from just an ordinary college campus into one of the most beautiful, extraordinary landscapes that has ever been seen in the Panhandle.

Primary in the program of construction is the erection of a large dormitory for the athletes of the college.

Natural rock, petrified wood, and sand and gravel, all of which come from the Panhandle itself are the building material of the Buffalo Courts, as the construction is called.

Labor is furnished by the boys themselves working under the FERA with the aid of one carpenter and one rock mason. The courts are to be a low, rambling, ranch-like structure, typical of the Panhandle. They are to be built in a U formation with a large recreational hall in the center.

There will be eleven rooms on each side. The rooms will be in apartments with a toilet and showers between each two rooms.

One wing of the courts has been completed and has aroused much interest in the district. In the breaks of the Canadian River and the arroyos of the Palo Duro Canyon have been gathered the stone and petrified wood which have combined to give Buffalo Courts a very unique appearance. "A new type of architecture, typical of the Panhandle," is the description given the completed wing by most of the visitors.

Rich color is given the buildings from the stone—rose and brown and gray which mingles with the gray tans and tawny greens that are to be found everywhere in the West Texas landscape.

On the inside of the rooms, everything is in harmony with the unique exterior. The inside finish is of rough plaster, with the woodwork given a burned stain effect by going over it with a blow torch. Hinges, door latches, and other hardware fixtures have been pounded, giving them an antique appearance.

The furniture consists of double deck bunks, table, chairs and book stands in each room, and all are sturdy enough to withstand rough usage. The 22 rooms when completed, will accomodate 52 boys.

On one side of the Courts will be a desert garden with shrubs and cacti typical of the Southwest, and on the other side will be a luxurious sunken garden in contrast to the desert flora.

With the completion of the one unit of the Buffalo Courts, an epidemic of building of the farmers and ranchers of the region—using the natural rock of the country.

In the mouth of the U, between the two wings of Buffalo Court, will stand a large recreational hall, nearly completed all ready. The recreational hall will also use the natural rock which is the dominant tone of the campus today, but will use more petrified wood than the courts. Ninety tons of petrified wood have all ready been placed on the campus for use in the different projects, and approximately twenty tons more will be hauled in the near future.

In the recreational hall will be pool tables, checker boards, dominoes, etc. for the benefit of the boys who are staying in the Courts. In the back of the recreational hall will be a large handball court extending both of the stories.

Two large fire-places will be placed in the ends of the hall and will be decorated with stalagtites and stalagmites from Carlsbad Cavern. Lounging chairs, deep rugs, and suitable furniture will be used all through the recreational hall.

On the second floor will be found an entirely different atmosphere from that on the first floor. The front half of the room will be used more as a study room for the boys. There will be a radio, magazines, books, and study tables. Then it will be large enough that it can be used as a reception room when the occasion demands.

In the rear of the room will be a little platform upon which the persons can stand and look down into the handball court.

The Buffalo Courts and Recreational Hall are the central projects, but the physical education department is under a program of general expansion in every line.

Interest is mounting in the program, and every student in school is reached through some form of activity. Intercollegiate athletics, intramural sports in all lines, and every type of gym class are offered to the students. The construction projects are being pushed as a means of providing more facilities for those included in the program.

A rock wall is being built around the athletic field. The fence is of the same material as the courts and presents quite an imposing aspect.

The field house is being faced with the same colored rock to add to all the structures. With everything using the native rock and stone of the Panhandle, a landscape pleasing to the eye is growing up.

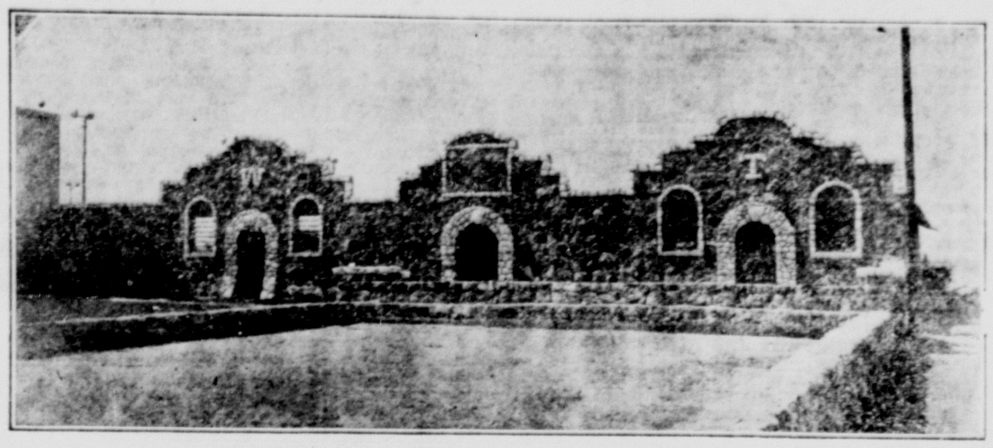

Grants have all ready been authorized for the construction of an outdoor swimming pool. W. T. now has the only inside swimming pool in the Panhandle and will soon have separate pools. Quite naturally the swimming pool will also be faced with the rock and petrified wood.

Several croquet courts have been finished with a low wall around the boundaries out of—guess what—Panhandle rock. Three concrete tennis courts have been finished and three more will soon be under construction. Rock bleachers will extend for 100 feet along the tennis courts.

Box seats for the stadium are soon to be added from the store of stone and 130 feet of rock bleachers on one side of the gridiron.

A club house for the Mavericks, an organization of the young boys in the town, a laundry building, and a garage are other buildings that are planned for the near future.

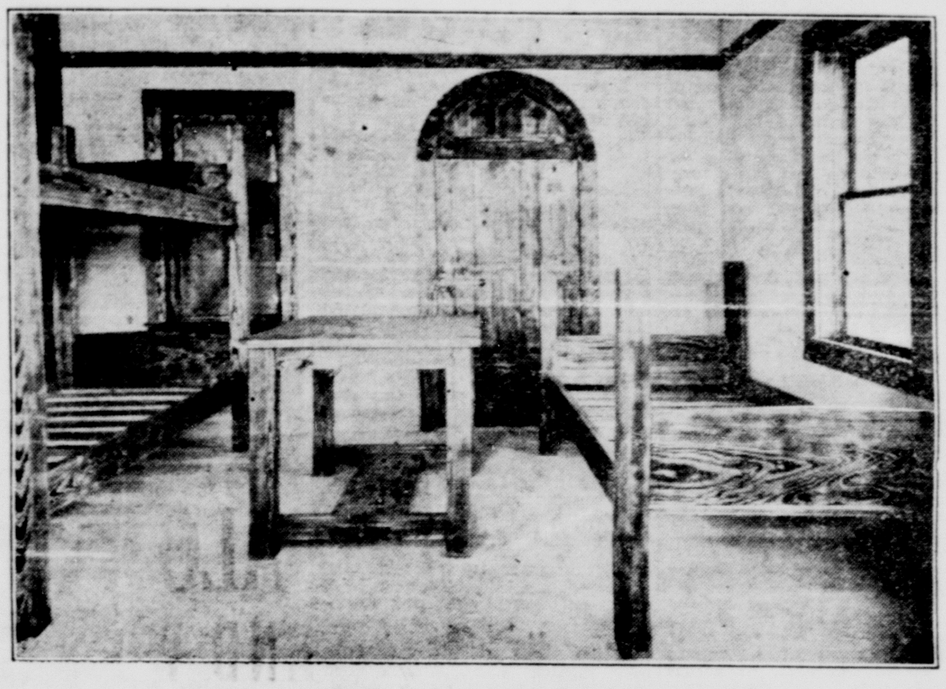

Many things are under construction, and a great many things are planned for the future. When those are finished, there are many more things which can be done. The man behind all of these projects is Coach Al Baggett. He has stepped in where there was not too much done, and with very little to work with, has created an abundance. His far-seeing vision is responsible for the vast improvement of the physical education plant and program. When a man can creat something out of nothing, there is no limit to what he can do. Coach Baggett's stated aim is to have the finest physical education department in the South, and he is all ready well on the road with the help of his associates. The material is at the back door, and with his driving force behind it, the realization of his ambition is in prospect.

A great, shining dragon, 150 feet long, towed through the streets by Chinese in weird ancestral costumes—that's the night scene San Francisco ans witnessed as the city's Chinatown ushered in Chinese week. Criminals Are Learning That Kidnaping Doesn't Pay, Record Shows

WHILE there may be an occasional revival, as in the Tacoma, Wash., "snatching" of little George Weyerhaeuser, kidnaping as a source of revenue evidently has lost its appeal to the underworld.

For the reason, let's emulate All Smith and "look at the record."

Certainty, rather than severity of punishment, it is said, has the most salutary effect on the average criminal. If that is the case, the story of what has happened to kidnapers since G men entered the picture should bring a shudder from the most calloused gangster.

• • •

THE recent kidnaping of the 9 year-old scion to the Weyerhaeuser northwestern lumber millions, while on his way home from school, is the latest in a steadily declining wave of "snatchings" which began during the wane of the prohibition era.

In prohibition's winter, with the passing of bootleg profits, the underworld's fancy turned to thoughts of ransom.

Hardly any preparation was needed. Prohibition had built up a vast criminal organization, literally a super-government of crime, all over the country. The kidnaping era arrived.

At first the racket was inflicted only on tainted pocketbooks, as a form of hi-jacking. Soon, made bold by success, the gangs began to practice their nefarious art on the law-abiding.

The "infant industry" thrived until the brutal Lindbergh tragedy occurred. The flood of national indignation which swept the country even engulfed Congress, and as a result the Lindbergh Law came into being. This drastic measure, later amended to include the death sentence, enabled government men to enter the war on "snatchers."

Since that time, the Department of Justice has been able to write the terse notation, "Solved," across the record of every kidnaping that occurred up to the time of the Weyerhaeuser case—36 in all.

Grim testimony that kidnaping didn't pay, two of the 75 convicted abductors were sentenced to death; 16 to life imprisonment. Two others had been shot to death by G men; two had been murdered; three had committed suicide, and two had been lynched.

COMPLETE solution of the Weyerhaeuser case; capture of Alvin Karpis, Public Enemy No. 1 involved in the Bremer kidnaping; arrest of Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., wanted for the abduction of Mrs. Alice Stoll, Kentucky society matron—these are the few tasks remaining to balance the Department of Justice ledger to date.

Wayside Items

Another Memorial Day has passed into history. Quite a nice attendance at Wayside. We greet so many friends of old, we see no other time; also miss familiar faces who have passed on since last Memorial Day. More flowers for decoration of graves than we thought possible a few weeks ago; due to recent rains.

After a bountiful dinner spread in basement of our new Union church a nice program was staged in the auditorium in the school building. Wayside was ably assisted by visitors from Vigo Park and Tulia possibly other places. Judge Oneall's address was good. Well worth considering. The cemetery was nicely cleaned off, graves renewed and rubbish taken away by men and boys.

Sunday School was well attended, led by our proficient Superintendent, Mrs. Edith Harrell. We feel proud of our Sunday School at Wayside.

Services in the afternoon led by Rev. Foster and his helpers of the Pentecostal Church of God, Amarillo. A most excellent sermon, declared by many. An appointment was left a month hence.

Dewitt McGehee left Sunday morning with a span of mules in trailer for J. M. McGehee's place at Gallegos, New Mexico. Reported J. M.'s health is improving. Dewitt returned Monday afternoon.

J. Odell Gillham and family from Pampa, Floyd Adams and wife, Wayside, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing McGehee, Sunday.

Remember to be at Wayside Friday night to enjoy Cal Farley's Band of entertainers of Amarillo, for benefit of the church fund. Admission 15c and 25c.

Mrs. Bessie Burland had quite a sick spell Monday night.

Joyce Lane is working at Sulphur Springs Ranch for J. T. McGehee.

Your car will run better with this marvelous

SUMMER GASOLINE

If you are an experienced and observant driver, you can prove for yourself the hot-weather benefits of Phillips 66 . . . the gasoline that is 100% custom-tailored.

Get a trial tankful and you quickly feel the difference . . . your engine feels it . . . but your pocketbook doesn't! . . . because Phillips 66 costs nothing extra.

Phillips was first to match gasoline to weather. Pioneered CONTROLLED VOLATILITY 9 years ago. This scientific development squarely meets the issue of summer motor troubles—overheating, knocking, and lost power. Meets it just as effectively as it does winter driving problems—slow starting, stalling, and lost mileage.

Every month in the year, Phillips gives you a gas custom-tailored to your locality and its temperature, as determined by U. S. Weather Bureau standards. It is definitely engineered to meet your requirements. It is not only a summer gasoline . . . this month it is actually a June gas. And next month it will be a July gas. As different every month as the weather differs from month to month.

That is why changes in climate cannot affect the power, pep, and mileage you get with Phillips 66.

Remember, it doesn't take weeks or months to uncover the facts. Try just a single tankful, and you may find that your car is a much better performer than you ever thought . . . that the engine is smoother, cooler, quieter . . . more responsive to the throttle and far more nimble.

Relief Work and Park Discussed at Rotary Lunch

Clyde Warwick was in charge of the program Tuesday at the Rotary luncheon. He discussed two public questions and their developments during the past week. One was the government work-relief plans; the other, the new plan for the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Reporting on a gathering in Amarillo last week attended by citizens of Northwest Texas, Mr. Warwick brought the views which had been expressed at Washington regarding the four billion dollar bill which is now being considered. It is believed that only three projects will come under this measure, soil erosion, roads and school houses.

The history of the creation of the new advisory committee for the Palo Duro Canyon State Park was reviewed, and the aims of the committee were presented. Most people look upon the Palo Duro as a park of 15,500 acres, while in the eyes of the National Park Service the park consists of only 120 acres plus a 100 foot right of way through the land. This is the only clear land in the tract, and the balance is plastered by mortgage.

The members of the new committee serve without pay, and have to pay their own expenses. They serve because they want to see the park developed as it should be.

The speaker hoped that some organization in Canyon would sponsor a Canyon-Randall County day at the Park, urging that every citizen see the Park on that day. Several special days are being planned for the Park. June 26th will be Wise County day. The Plateau Singing Convention will meet during this month.

"Few people in Canyon realize what a wonderful park we have until they hear the opinions of those who come from other sections and witness the Palo Duro," stated Mr. Warwick.

Arthur Osgood of Amarillo, and C. C. Jones of Canyon were visitors at the luncheon.
